encryption and decryption process that is used to make the television programming accessible to only authorized Sling subscribers.

4. Plaintiffs' First Amended Complaint alleges that Defendants Juan Nahuel Pereyra and Juan Barcan ("Defendants") owned and operated four websites Live-nba.stream, Freefeds.com, Sportsbay.org, and Sportsbay.tv (collectively "Sportsbay Websites") designed to retransmit Plaintiffs' programming and circumvent Plaintiffs' encryption protecting their programming.

5. Defendants Juan Nahuel Pereyra and Juan Barcan ("Defendants") were not authorized by DISH or Sling to provide access to DISH's copyrighted television programming, including the channels identified in the complaint, at any time or in any manner.

6. Plaintiffs lost revenues and market share when persons used the Sportsbay Websites to watch unauthorized retransmissions of Sling programming, rather than purchasing the right to access that programming from Plaintiffs. Determining the amount of Plaintiffs' lost revenues is impractical because the following is generally unknown:

- a. the number of total users accessing Sling's programming through the Sportsbay Websites throughout their lifetime;
- b. how many users would have purchased a subscription or pay per view from Plaintiffs;
- c. how long those users would have remained Plaintiffs' subscribers; and

d. the specifics concerning the Sling programming received by the users to identify the cost of the required subscription packages from Plaintiffs and any pay-per-view or extra programming fees.

7. Defendants' conduct also damages Plaintiffs' reputations and goodwill. Plaintiffs' reputations are built on and depend on delivering Plaintiffs' programming to authorized subscribers in a secure manner. Defendants, by assisting their websites' users in circumventing Sling's security technology and receiving Sling programming without authorization, harms Plaintiffs' reputations, goodwill, and interferes with Plaintiffs' contractual and prospective business relationships, including relationships with channel providers that license their programming to Plaintiffs. Calculating Plaintiffs' reputational damage and lost sales due to the piracy facilitated by Defendants is inherently difficult, if not impossible.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

DECLARATION OF CHRISTOPHER ROSS

I, Christopher Ross, of Englewood, Colorado, declare as follows:

1. I make this declaration based on personal knowledge and, if called upon to testify, would testify competently as stated herein.

2. I am employed as Senior Intelligence Analyst with NagraStar LLC (“NagraStar”). My responsibilities include gathering and analyzing evidence for NagraStar’s anti-piracy and infringement investigations, and support of legal actions. NagraStar was directed by counsel for Plaintiffs DISH Network L.L.C. (“DISH”) and Sling TV L.L.C. (“Sling”) to analyze the Live-nba.stream, Freefeds.com, Sportsbay.org, and Sportsbay.tv (collectively the “Sportsbay Websites”) and how the websites were providing DISH’s copyrighted television programming (“Sling Programming”) to users of the Sportsbay Websites (“Sportsbay users”) without authorization.

Analysis of the Sportsbay Websites

3. The Sportsbay Websites provide free access to television channels in the United States. I used a United States IP address in analyzing the Sportsbay Websites. I personally observed the channels on the website.

4. Sportsbay.org is the main website accessed by Sportsbay users. Attached as Exhibit 1 is a true and correct copy of screenshots of the home pages of the Sportsbay.org and Sportsbay.tv websites that I captured on July 1, 2021, including links for Sportsbay users to access various types of television programming. The screenshots show that Sportsbay.tv is a mirror image of Sportsbay.org.

5. On July 1, 2021, I clicked on the “TV” link from the home pages of Sportsbay.org and Sportsbay.tv and was redirected to <https://sportsbay.org/sports/tv-channels> and <https://sportsbay.tv/sports/tv-channels>, respectively. Attached as Exhibit 2 is a true and correct copy of screenshots of the <https://sportsbay.org/sports/tv-channels> and <https://sportsbay.tv/sports/tv-channels> pages, which include links to receive at least 97 “US TV Channels.”

6. On July 1, 2021, I clicked on the following links to US TV Channels and I received and was able to view Sling Programming: AHC, AMC, BBC America, BeinSports4, BeinSports5, BeinSports6, BeinSports7, BeinSports8, Bravo, Buzzr, CNBC, CNN, Comedy Central, Discovery Channel, ESPN Deportes, Freeform, FYI, Golf Channel, History Channel, MLB Network, National Geographic, NBC, NBC Sports, NBC Sports California, NFL Redzone, Showtime, SundanceTV, SyFy, TBS, TLC, USA Network, VH1, and WeatherNation. Attached as Exhibit 3 is a true and correct copy of screenshots depicting Sling Programming that I received when I clicked on these links at <https://sportsbay.org/sports/tv-channels>. Attached as Exhibit 4 is a true and correct copy of screenshots depicting Sling Programming that I received when I clicked on these links at <https://sportsbay.tv/sports/tv-channels>.

7. When I clicked on these channel links on Sportsbay.org or Sportsbay.tv, the websites connected to the Freefeds.com website by embedding content originating from a Freefeds.com Uniform Resource Locator (“URL”). Attached as Exhibit 5 is a true and correct copy of screenshots of iframe code on the Sportsbay.org website showing it embedding Sling Programming originating from the Freefeds.com website. Attached as Exhibit 6 is a true and correct copy of screenshots of iframe code on the Sportsbay.tv website showing it embedding Sling Programming originating from the Freefeds.com website.

8. The Sling Programming that I received through Sportsbay.org and Sportsbay.tv on July 1, 2021, was viewed in a Chrome browser with developer tools enabled to analyze the network traffic. The network traffic shows that the Freefeds.com iframe accesses the encrypted Sling Programming originating from Sling’s computer server assigned to the Movetv.com domain, and delivers it to the embedded iframe on the Sportsbay.org or Sportsbay.tv websites. Attached as Exhibit 7 is a true and correct copy of relevant portions of the network traffic on the Sportsbay.org website showing this for the Sling Programming that I received. Attached as Exhibit 8 is a true and correct copy of relevant portions of the network traffic on the Sportsbay.tv website showing this for the Sling Programming that I received.

9. The network traffic shows that the Freefeds.com iframe then connects to the Live-nba.stream computer server in order to obtain the DRM keys necessary to decrypt the Sling Programming so that it is displayed on the Sportsbay.org and Sportsbay.tv websites. Attached as Exhibit 9 is a true and correct copy of relevant portions of the network traffic on the Sportsbay.org website showing this for the Sling Programming that I received. Attached as Exhibit 10 is a true and correct copy of relevant portions of the network traffic on the Sportsbay.tv website showing this for the Sling Programming that I received.

Defendants' Service Providers

10. Attached as Exhibit 11 is a true and correct copy of the DomainTools Whois records for Sportsbay.org identifying:

- a. Tucows Inc. as the registrar and privacy protection service for the domain;
- b. Cloudflare as a service provider for the domain;
- c. Namecheap, Inc. as a former registrar for the domain;
- d. WhoisGuard, Inc. as a former privacy protection service for the domain;
- e. 159.65.35.50 as a former IP address for the domain; and
- f. 198.54.117.210 as a former IP address for the domain.

11. Attached as Exhibit 12 is a true and correct copy of the DomainTools Whois records for IP addresses 159.65.35.50 and 198.54.117.210 showing they are owned by DigitalOcean, LLC and Namecheap, Inc., respectively.

12. Attached as Exhibit 13 is a true and correct copy of the DomainTools Whois records for Sportsbay.tv identifying Cloudflare as a service provider for the domain.

13. Attached as Exhibit 14 is a true and correct copy of the DomainTools Whois records for Live-nba.stream identifying:

- a. Namecheap, Inc. as the registrar for the domain; and
- b. Cloudflare as a service provider for the domain.

14. Attached as Exhibit 15 is a true and correct copy of the DomainTools Whois records for Freefeds.com identifying:

- a. Namecheap, Inc. as the registrar for the domain; and

b. Cloudflare as a service provider for the domain.

15. Attached as Exhibit 16 is a true and correct copy of the relevant portions of the view page source for Sportsbay.org, Sportsbay.tv, and Live-nba.stream, each identifying their Google Analytics ID as UA-187547947.

16. Sportsbay.org and Sportsbay.tv are promoted by a Twitter page at <https://twitter.com/livesportsbay>.

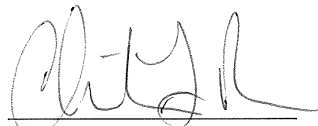

17. Live-nba.stream is promoted by an Instagram page at <https://www.instagram.com/livenba.stream/>.

18. Defendants are the customers of the foregoing third-party service providers identified in paragraphs 10-17. The third-party service providers are expected to have information identifying Defendants.

19. NagraStar conducted a thorough investigation of the Sportsbay Websites and third-party service accounts listed in paragraphs 10-17, but does not have a means for identifying Defendants without the assistance of the third-parties. It has been NagraStar's experience that third-parties require a subpoena and court order prior to providing information regarding the customer using their services.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

EXHIBIT C

3. Plaintiffs filed motions requesting entry of default against Defendants on November 23, 2022 and March 8, 2023. (Dkts. 23, 27.)

4. I am not aware of any facts that suggest Defendants, foreign nationals residing in Argentina, are members of the United States military.

5. I am not aware of facts that show or suggest that Defendants are incompetent or minors. Rather, their circumvention of Sling’s security measures to allow users of their websites to receive Plaintiffs’ television programming without authorization, as alleged in the Plaintiffs’ First Amended Complaint (“FAC”), show that they are competent. (Dkt. 11, FAC ¶¶ 2, 5-6, 16–25.) Documents produced by Namecheap and PayPal show that Defendants’ PayPal accounts were used to make payments to Namecheap for the Sportsbay.org, Live-nba.stream, and Freefeds.com domain names, and further evidence their competence and that they are not minors. (See Dkt. 24-1 ¶¶ 3, 8, Exs. 1-5.)

Jurisdiction

6. Attached as Exhibit 1 is a true and correct copy of a whitepaper that I obtained from Cloudflare’s website titled “How Cloudflare optimizes web content for faster page loads.” The whitepaper says, “[t]he Cloudflare global network spans 250+ cities in more than 100 countries. We cache static assets across our network and always direct end users to the closest data center, minimizing latency.” (Ex. 1 at 4.)

Executive Summary

Study after study has confirmed that consumers expect fast, seamless experiences when they use websites and web apps. If your website is not fast and performant, you are likely missing out on huge business opportunities.

There are three main areas where Cloudflare can boost your web performance: server responsiveness, network latency, and content optimization. This paper puts a spotlight on the third area: content optimization.

We will go over how Cloudflare optimizes your content to ensure your users have a superior customer experience. Cloudflare does this by supporting the latest and fastest web protocols, optimizing images and video for fastest delivery, and using modern compression techniques to reduce file size.

WHAT IS CONTENT OPTIMIZATION?

Cloudflare content optimization

For any web property, a variety of components make up the content that needs to be delivered from the origin server to the end user, including images, video, CSS and JavaScript files, and HTML.

The Cloudflare global network spans 250+ cities in more than 100 countries. We cache static assets across our network and always direct end users to the closest data center, minimizing latency. We create an optimized version of your original assets in a much smaller file size. By optimizing both content file size and network paths, we offer super fast load times on the shortest possible path to the user.

Cloudflare enables you to:

- Use faster protocols to vastly reduce network latency and to reprioritize content so large resources, such as JavaScript files, do not block the page from loading
- Optimize and compress images to speed up load times
- Convert video files using modern codecs to simplify streaming
- Efficiently compress files for faster loading using Brotli and gzip compression

1. Faster web protocols

Cloudflare is an industry leader in supporting new and more efficient web protocols.

HTTP/2 is much faster and more efficient than HTTP/1.1, the earlier version of HTTP that is still in wide use on the Internet, thanks to a number of added features and improvements to the protocol.

HTTP/2 Prioritization: In HTTP/2, developers have hands-on, detailed control over prioritization, or the order in which content loads. This allows them to maximize page load speed, even across different browsers, to a degree that was not possible in HTTP/1.1.

In the context of web performance, prioritization refers to the order in which pieces of content are loaded. Prioritization affects a webpage's load time. Certain resources may block the rest of the page from loading if they have to load first: these are known as render-blocking resources.

Large JavaScript files, for instance, may not need to load right away for page functionality, but if they have to load before the rest of the content does, they can delay the user's ability to interact with the content. By prioritizing large JavaScript files last, developers ensure the rest of the page loads first and loads more efficiently.

Currently, Cloudflare is the only CDN (content delivery network) provider to support HTTP/2 prioritization. In addition, Cloudflare has built a prioritization engine specifically for resource handling in HTTP/2 so that all webpages load faster on any browser. Developers are able to customize prioritization if desired, but you can also use Cloudflare's default settings to automatically speed up load times.

Multiplexing: HTTP/2 also delivers data more efficiently than HTTP/1.1 by sending several content elements at once instead of one at a time. In HTTP/2, when a client makes a request for a webpage, the server sends several streams of data to the client simultaneously, instead of sending one thing after another. This method of data delivery is known as multiplexing.

Other HTTP/2 speed improvements include:

- Header compression: Smaller HTTP headers can reach client devices faster
- Server push: Servers can deliver content before client devices request it, cutting down the number of round trips
- Stream priority: Browsers can request which assets they want to receive first for more efficient page loading
- As a result of all these improvements, websites using HTTP/2 load up to 14% faster¹ than those using HTTP/1.1
- Enabling HTTP/2 makes your web properties load faster and more efficiently, before the rest of your content is even optimized

2. Image optimization and compression

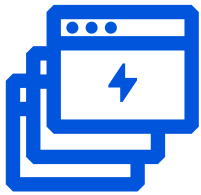

Image optimization is the process of preparing images to load quickly across a variety of devices and screen sizes. Non-optimized images can massively slow down a website. There are several ways to speed up image loading, from optimizing the images themselves to speeding up the behind-the-scenes processes involved in loading the images.

Resizing for a variety of screen sizes:

Using high-quality images is important for keeping users engaged, but image files do not need to be massive. Smaller images in terms of file size load faster. Overly large images or high-resolution images can have a huge impact on page load time, and they are usually unnecessary.

On a regular DPI screen, these images look the same, yet the image on the right takes more than 20 times more data to load.

To keep image files as small as possible, images should be optimized for the specific screen size they are loading on. Larger images should only load for larger screens; on smaller screens, smaller images can be used so that they load even faster; full-resolution images should not be used at all.

This requires a ton of work from developers to resize images and to maintain a catalog of image variants for multiple device types. However, Cloudflare Image Resizing does this automatically, creating multiple copies from a single master file and serving them from Cloudflare's cache. This significantly reduces the number of images you need to manage and maintain in your catalog. The result: Faster page load times across all devices, from smartphones to desktops, and a better user experience.

Automatic conversion to WebP

Parallel streaming of progressive images is possible by leveraging HTTP/2 prioritization. To stream images in parallel, the server prioritizes image data in the following way:

The image header that contains the image size is very high priority, because the browser needs to know the size as soon as possible to do page layout. The image header is small, so it doesn't hurt to send it ahead of other data. Loading this first prevents the page from "jumping" as the rest of the images load.

The minimum amount of data in the image required to show a preview of the image has a medium priority.

The remainder of the image data is low priority. Browsers can stream it last to refine image quality once there's no rush, since the page is already fully usable.

Parallel streaming for progressive images

Progressive image loading is a method for reducing the time it takes for images to load. Progressive images initially load at a lower quality level, but load more information over time. In this way, the image loads quickly at first, and then within seconds it improves in quality. The user does not have to wait for the page to load yet still gets the benefits of a high-quality image.

Cloudflare offers parallel streaming of progressive images: streaming multiple images at once instead of one at a time. In addition to being more efficient, parallel streaming helps eliminate page jumps as the page loads, improving the user experience.

3. Video optimization and delivery

Consumers today expect to be able to interact with a variety of content as they visit web properties and use apps. Video content is more important for user engagement now than ever.

However, slow-loading video content can have a negative impact on user engagement. Non-optimized embedded video can slow down page load times, frustrating users.³ Each 1-second buffering delay in video playback results in a 5.8% percent increase in user abandonment rates.⁴ Fortunately, Cloudflare helps you optimize the video encoding and delivery process.

Cloudflare Stream is an online video platform that supports modern video encoding so publishers do not have to continually update to more efficient codecs. It is an end-to-end platform; eliminating the need to maintain a video streaming infrastructure. In addition, the Cloudflare global network vastly speeds up streaming delivery times to end users around the world, and it optimizes video resolution for the end user via our HTML5 player.

Cloudflare Stream supports modern video streaming protocols such as MPEG-DASH and HLS. Adaptive bitrate streaming is a feature of these protocols; adaptive bitrate streaming dynamically adjusts video quality in response to network conditions, so that users always get the best possible video quality without waiting for the video to buffer for several seconds.

4. Compression

Reducing file size increases loading speed, which is why compression is such an important technology for optimizing your content for the Internet. A compressed file will load much faster than an uncompressed one, as less data needs to be transferred.

Brotli compression is one of the most effective types of compression available today for web content. In wide use since it was developed in 2016, Brotli compression is supported by all major browsers. It works by compressing text using a dictionary of common phrases. This makes it well-suited for compressing HTML, CSS, and JavaScript files, cutting fractions of a second off your page load time.

Brotli compression is lossless: it does not impact or reduce the quality of your content. However, it does reduce file size by a greater degree than other types of compression:

- HTML files compressed with Brotli are 21% smaller than those compressed with gzip
- JavaScript files are 14% smaller than gzip
- CSS files are 17% smaller than gzip⁵

Cloudflare customers can toggle on Brotli compression within the Cloudflare Dashboard with a single click. Cloudflare also offers gzip compression in case Brotli is not supported by a customer (gzip compression also speeds up content, but not by as much as Brotli compression).

Conclusion

Improving the performance of your Internet-facing properties requires a multifaceted approach that involves minimizing network latency, improving server responsiveness, and reducing file sizes. Cloudflare can minimize the effort involved to optimize web assets and significantly improve page load times. Contact Cloudflare today to set up a trial or evaluation and experience the benefits of a faster Internet.

FINAL JUDGMENT AND PERMANENT INJUNCTION

I. Nature of the Case

Plaintiffs DISH Network L.L.C. (“DISH”) and NagraStar LLC (“NagraStar” and, collectively with DISH, “Plaintiffs”) filed this action against Defendants Digital TV Cre, S.R.L. (“Digital TV”), Raul Ernesto Guzman Lora (“Guzman Senior”), Leony Esmeralda Croes (“Croes”), Raul Guzman Croes (“Guzman Junior”), and Leonardo Casci (“Casci” and collectively with the above-named defendants, “Defendants”) for providing products and services used to circumvent the NagraStar smart card and other security measures implemented by DISH to receive DISH’s satellite transmissions of television programming without authorization.

Defendants were properly served with a summons and Plaintiffs’ complaint, but did not file an answer, responsive pleading, or otherwise defend the lawsuit within the time allowed. Plaintiffs submitted evidence that Defendants are not infants, not incompetent, and not on active duty with the United States military or otherwise exempted under the Servicemembers' Civil Relief Act.

As a result of Defendants' failure to answer or otherwise appear in this action, the Court accepts as true the following well-pleaded allegations from Plaintiffs' complaint:

1. DISH is the fourth largest pay-television provider in the United States. DISH delivers its copyrighted television programming to millions of fee-paying subscribers in the United States using a direct broadcast satellite system. (Dkt. 1, Compl. ¶¶ 14-16.)

2. DISH transmits its television programming to its subscribers in an encrypted format. To receive the encrypted satellite signal, subscribers must purchase or lease a DISH receiver paired with a NagraStar smart card, and DISH subscription package. (Id. ¶ 17.)

3. NagraStar's smart card is used to (i) store, manage, and communicate to the DISH receiver the subscriber's right to decrypt specific channels based on his subscription plan, and (ii) decrypt the encrypted control words or "keys" required to unlock and view the DISH channels for which the subscriber has purchased access. (Id. ¶ 18.)

4. Control words are transmitted to authorized DISH subscribers in encrypted packets called "entitlement control messages" or "ECMs," which are part of the encrypted audio and video streams provided by DISH. The keys used to decrypt the ECMs, known as "transmission keys," are stored in the NagraStar smart card. (Id. ¶ 19.)

5. When a DISH subscriber tunes their DISH receiver to a specific channel, the receiver obtains the encrypted ECM with the encrypted control word and forwards the ECM to the NagraStar smart card. The NagraStar smart card uses its current transmission key to decrypt the ECM, and then looks in its rights database to confirm that the DISH subscriber purchased a subscription to view the DISH channel that the control word will decrypt. If the subscriber is authorized to view the DISH channel, the NagraStar smart card forwards the unencrypted control word to the DISH receiver, where the receiver decrypts DISH's satellite signal using the control word, enabling the subscriber to view the DISH channel. (Id. ¶ 20.)

6. "Internet key sharing" or "IKS" is a form of pay-television piracy that centers on the unauthorized harvesting and distribution of control words that decrypt DISH's satellite signal. The control words are obtained by purchasing a DISH subscription and then using a genuine NagraStar smart card activated on that subscription to decrypt the ECMs containing the control words. Once decrypted, control words are sent from the NagraStar smart card to a computer server, referred to as an "IKS server," where the control words are saved in the server's memory or cache. (Id. ¶ 21.)

7. The control words that decrypt DISH's satellite signal are distributed from the IKS server to end users. End users access the IKS server using an unauthorized receiver connected to the Internet, and must also have a valid subscription or passcode for the IKS service. When the end user tunes to a DISH channel, the unauthorized receiver requests the control word for that particular channel from the IKS server. The IKS server sends the control word over the Internet to the unauthorized receiver, in turn enabling the end user to decrypt the DISH channel without having authorization from and without making payment to DISH. (Id. ¶ 22.)

8. Defendant Digital TV is a Dominican Republic limited liability company, with its principal place of business in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic. Defendants Guzman Senior and Croes are co-owners of Digital TV and serve as the officers or persons in charge of Digital TV. Guzman Junior and Casci are agents of Digital TV, working under the direction of Guzman Senior and Croes. Guzman Senior, Croes, Guzman Junior, and Casci each participate in, authorize, control, and receive direct financial benefits from the infringing activities of Digital TV. (Id. ¶¶ 4-8, 10; see also ¶¶ 24-27, 30, 33, 35.)

9. Digital TV owns and controls websites that offer subscriptions to the IKS service called IKS Private Server or NFPS (hereinafter, “NFPS”), as well as the IKS service known as IKS Rocket (together with NFPS, the “IKS Services”). The websites include www.iksprivateserver.com, www.iptvprivateserver.com, www.servidoriksprivado.com, www.servidoriptvprivado.com; www.iksrocket.com and www.iptvrocket.com (together, the “IKS Subscription Websites”). (Id. ¶¶ 24-25 n.1.)

10. Digital TV uses DISH receivers and NagraStar smart cards that are activated on DISH accounts to capture, without authorization, the control words that decrypt DISH’s satellite transmissions of television programming. The control words are retransmitted to IKS servers supporting the IKS Services. DISH accounts held in the names of Guzman Senior and Croes have been used for seeding the IKS Services with control words. Digital TV also maintains and controls servers supporting the IKS Services and IKS Subscription Websites. (Id. ¶¶ 26-27.)

11. The IKS Subscription Websites offer IKS Service subscriptions to both end users and resellers. A single one-year subscription to the IKS Service costs $85. The price is reduced for resellers buying in larger quantities. Payment is accepted through third-party payment processors including PayEase, ePay, GlobeBill, 95ePay, Payment Asia, Western Union, and PayPal. The IKS Subscription Websites recommend certain of these payment processors based upon their offshore locations and unwillingness to disclose information regarding the customers that use their payment processing services. (Id. ¶ 28.)

12. Digital TV also owns and controls the website located at www.papiao.tv (“Papiao.tv”), which is used to distribute and administer the subscriptions sold on the IKS Subscription Websites. After purchasing a subscription, the end user receives an email from Papiao.tv that contains a passcode required to access the IKS Service and information identifying the IKS server. The end user inputs this passcode and server information when navigating the menus of their unauthorized receiver to access the IKS Service, and in turn receive DISH’s satellite transmissions of television programming. Papiao.tv is also used by resellers to activate and manage their IKS Service subscriptions purchased from Digital TV. (Id. ¶¶ 30-32.)

13. Papiao.tv and the IKS Subscription Websites refer end users to websites that offer instructions, software, and other support for using the IKS Services to receive DISH’s satellite transmissions of television programming without authorization. These additional support websites have included www.iptvzeta.com, www.iptvwalk.org, www.tvbeta.org, www.servidordeiks.com, www.ftazeta.com, and www.ftabeta.com (collectively, the “IKS Support Websites”). Digital TV posts software and instructions for using the IKS Services on the IKS Support Websites. (Id. ¶¶ 33-34.)

14. Digital TV sells subscriptions to the IKS Services through resellers that have included Guzman Junior, Casci, and additional non-parties. Guzman Junior, Casci, and the other non-party resellers sold subscriptions to the IKS Services through the IKS Support Websites, among other means. (Id. ¶ 35.)

15. Defendants violated the Digital Millennium Copyright Act, 17 U.S.C. § 1201(a)(2), and the Federal Communications Act, 47 U.S.C. §§ 605(a) and 605(e)(4), as alleged in Counts I-III of Plaintiffs' complaint. (Id. ¶¶ 36-50.)

16. Plaintiffs elected to recover statutory damages in the amount of $2,500 for each of Defendants' violations of the DMCA, as authorized by 17 U.S.C. § 1203(c)(3)(A). The damages requested by Plaintiffs are substantially less than the $10,000 per violation statutory minimum allowed by the FCA, in line with statutory damages awarded in similar cases, and are reasonable in light of Defendants' misconduct. Plaintiffs submitted evidence that Defendants provided at least 99,903 subscriptions to their IKS Services.

II. Final Judgment & Permanent Injunction

The Court hereby ORDERS that, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 55(a), default is hereby entered against Defendants for failing to appear in this action despite being properly served.

Having reviewed the applicable law, evidence, and record in this matter, the Court hereby ORDERS that Defendants, and any of their officers, agents, servants, employees, or other persons acting in active concert or participation with any of the foregoing that receives actual notice of the order, are permanently enjoined from:

1. manufacturing, importing, offering to the public, providing, or otherwise trafficking in any control word sharing technologies or services, including the IKS Services and the subscriptions and passcodes used for accessing such services, or any other service, technology, product, device, component, or part thereof that:

a. is primarily designed or produced for circumventing a technological measure employed by DISH or NagraStar that controls access to, copying, or distribution of copyrighted works;

b. has only limited commercially significant purpose or use other than circumventing a technological measure employed by DISH or NagraStar that controls access to, copying, or distribution of copyrighted works;

c. is marketed for purposes of circumventing a technological measure employed by DISH or NagraStar that controls access to, copying, or distribution of copyrighted works;

2. manufacturing, assembling, modifying, importing, selling, or distributing control word sharing technologies or servers, including the subscriptions and passcodes used for accessing the IKS Services, or any other device or equipment knowing or having reason to know that such device or equipment is primarily of assistance in the unauthorized decryption of DISH's direct-to-home satellite services;

3. receiving or assisting others in receiving DISH's satellite transmissions of television programming, the content therein, or the control words that decrypt such transmissions.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that any third parties providing any form of web, server, domain registration, file hosting, website optimization, or content delivery network services used by Defendants in connection with any of the activities enjoined in the prior paragraph, and which receive actual notice of this Order, are enjoined from providing all such services to Defendants in connection with any of these enjoined activities.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the registry and registrars of the domain names associated with the IKS Subscription Websites, IKS Support Websites, and Papiao.tv shall, within 48 hours of receiving this Order from Plaintiffs, (i) make the websites and any other content located at the domain names inaccessible to the public, and (ii) transfer the domain names to Plaintiffs, including changing the registrar if requested by Plaintiffs.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Judgment is entered in favor of Plaintiffs on Counts I-III of the complaint alleging Defendants' violations of 17 U.S.C. § 1201(a)(2) and 47 U.S.C. §§ 605(a), (e)(4). Plaintiffs are awarded statutory damages of $249,757,500 ($2,500 x 99,903 IKS Service subscriptions) on Count I, in accordance with 17 U.S.C. § 1203(c)(3)(A). Defendants are jointly and severally liable for the damages awarded by the Court.

The Court retains jurisdiction over this action for a period of two years for purposes of enforcing this final judgment and permanent injunction.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

ECHOSTAR SATELLITE LLC,
ECHOSTAR TECHNOLOGIES
CORPORATION, NAGRASTAR LLC,

Plaintiffs,

vs.

VIEWTECH, INC. and JUNG KWAK,

Defendants.

Civil Case No. 07cv1273 BEN (WVG)

AMENDED ORDER GRANTING PLAINTIFFS’ MOTION FOR
SUMMARY JUDGMENT

INTRODUCTION

Plaintiffs DISH Network LLC,¹ EchoStar Technologies LLC, and NagraStar LLC move for summary judgment on their first claim for relief against Defendants ViewTech, Inc. and Jung Kwak. Plaintiffs seek a finding that Defendants are liable for violations of the Digital Millennium Copyright Act (“DMCA”), 17 U.S.C. § 1201(a)(2); statutory damages for the violations; a permanent injunction; and reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs. Defendants’ opposition was due by February 28, 2011, but Defendants have not opposed the motion.² For the reasons discussed below, Plaintiffs’ motion for summary judgment is GRANTED.

¹Plaintiff DISH Network LLC was formerly known as EchoStar Satellite LLC and Plaintiff EchoStar Technologies LLC was formerly known as EchoStar Technologies Corporation.

²The Court provided Defendant Kwak with the notice required by Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952 (9th Cir. 1998) (en banc) and Klinge v. Eikenberry, 849 F.2d 409 (9th Cir. 1988).

BACKGROUND

2 Plaintiffs provide satellite television programming to those that pay for the 3 programming. To protect against unauthorized use, Plaintiffs scramble their copyrighted
4 programming. Plaintiffs' receivers contain smart cards that convert Plaintiffs' encrypted
5 satellite signals into viewable programming for paying customers. Plaintiffs protect their 6 transmissions from unauthorized viewing by developing new versions of the smart card,
7 deployment of countermeasures that disable piracy devices, and prosecuting satellite piracy.

8 Defendant Viewtech sells Viewsat receivers that may be used to receive free-to-air
9 ("FTA") programming. FTA receivers are designed to receive unencrypted free satellite 10 transmissions, but can be converted, using piracy software and additional devices, to obtain
11 encrypted subscription programming. Defendant Kwak founded and is the principal owner
12 of Defendant Viewtech.³ Defendant Kwak used Defendant Viewtech to pay his personal 13 expenses, federal taxes, and to purchase gifts and real estate for family members. He 14 received more than fifteen million from Defendant Viewtech in 2007 and 2008.

15 Pursuant to a plea agreement, Defendant Kwak is currently serving an eighteen-month
16 criminal sentence. He plead guilty to orchestrating a conspiracy to circumvent Plaintiffs'
17 security technology by developing piracy-enabling software for Defendants' Viewsat
18 receivers in violation of the DMCA.

19 Defendants have a significant history of paying people to develop and distribute piracy
20 software over the internet, including piracy mechanisms to circumvent Plaintiffs' 21 countermeasures. Defendants' receivers are designed for piracy. Each model reviewed by an 22 expert contained more than one exact match of the proprietary code and data that resides on 23 Plaintiffs' smart card, a particular algorithm, and a graphical user interface. These elements
24 are essential to decrypt Plaintiffs' signals and serve no purpose in a receiver intended only to 25 obtain free programming. More than 95% of the functions in Defendants' receivers relate to 26 piracy. Additionally, many of Defendants' receivers have structural variations necessary to

27
28 ³Defendant Viewtech is currently in bankruptcy proceedings, but Plaintiffs have obtained relief from the automatic stay from the bankruptcy court to pursue a judgment against Viewtech.

1 add particular modules or boards designed to pirate Plaintiffs' programming.

2 Defendants provided thousands of free receivers to moderators on popular satellite
3 piracy web sites so that the moderators could test the receivers for use in pirating Plaintiffs'
4 programming and then post favorable reviews of the receiver's pirating capabilities.

5 Defendants' piracy software, distributed over the internet, has received more than eleven 6 million downloads.

7 In 2007, Plaintiffs announced the use of Nagra 3, a new security technology, that 8 impeded the traditional piracy approach. This announcement caused Defendants' receiver
9 sales to drop significantly. By March 2008, Defendants began attempting to crack the Nagra
10 3 encryption so that their receivers could continue to receive Plaintiffs' encrypted
11 programming without a subscription. Defendant Kwak hired expert computer hackers, co-12 defendants in his criminal proceedings. They collectively worked to crack Nagra 3 so that 13 the computer code could be published on the internet, allowing Defendants' receivers to,
14 once again, receive Plaintiffs' encrypted programming.

15 DISCUSSION

16 Summary judgment should be granted when "the movant shows that there is no
17 genuine dispute as to any material fact and the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of 18 law." FED. R. CIV. P. 56(a). The moving party bears the burden of demonstrating the 19 absence of a genuine issue of material fact. Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 20 256 (1986). If the moving party meets this burden, the burden then shifts to the opposing 21 party to set forth specific facts showing that a genuine issue remains for trial. Id. "Summary
22 judgment procedure is properly regarded not as a disfavored procedural shortcut, but rather 23 as an integral part of the Federal Rules as a whole, which are designed 'to secure the just, 24 speedy and inexpensive determination of every action.'" Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S.
25 317, 327 (1986) (quoting Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 1)).

27 ///

28 ///

1 I. Defendants' Liability Under the DMCA

2 The DMCA, 17 U.S.C. § 1201(a)(2), prohibits trafficking in a technology that: (1) is 3 designed or produced for circumventing a measure that controls access to a copyrighted
4 work; (2) has only limited commercial purpose or use other than circumventing an access 5 measure; or (3) is marketed for use in circumventing an access control measure. Under the 6 statute, “‘circumvent a technological measure’ means to descramble a scrambled work, to 7 decrypt an encrypted work, or otherwise to avoid, bypass, remove, deactivate, or impair a 8 technological measure without authority of the copyright owner.” § 1201(a)(3)(A).
9 Plaintiffs have established Defendants violated all three prongs of § 1201(a)(2), although one 10 would be sufficient.

11 Plaintiffs have demonstrated they employed measures to control access to copyrighted
12 works and that Defendants sold receivers designed to circumvent Plaintiffs' security.
13 Plaintiffs' undisputed evidence establishes that Plaintiffs use complex security measures to 14 prevent unauthorized access to the copyrighted programming Plaintiffs broadcast, including 15 encrypting the signals and providing equipment necessary for lawful users to decrypt the 16 signals.

17 Plaintiffs' undisputed evidence also establishes that Defendants' receivers are 18 designed and produced to circumvent Plaintiffs' security measures. As outlined above, the 19 receivers themselves are structurally altered to accommodate pirating devices and Defendants 20 helped develop and market the pirating software for use on their receivers. Additionally,
21 Defendant Kwak plead guilty to conspiring to circumvent Plaintiffs' most recent security 22 technology, Nagra 3. Defendants' trafficking in the receivers violated the first prong of §
23 1201(a)(2).⁴

24 Plaintiffs have also established Defendants violated the second prong of § 1201(a)(2)
25 — limited use other than circumventing an access measure — because Plaintiffs' undisputed 26 evidence shows that Defendants' receivers are primarily used for pirating. Defendants have 27

28 ⁴Certainly, selling receivers designed and constructed for free satellite programming, without more, would not violate 17 U.S.C. § 1201.

1 sold approximately 1.5 to 1.8 million receivers and there have been more than eleven million
2 downloads of piracy software tailored to operate on Defendants' receivers. Additionally, the 3 announcement of the new Nagra 3 security technology resulted in a significant drop in sales
4 of Defendants' receivers. From these undisputed facts, it is reasonable to infer that 5 Defendants' receivers had limited use other than circumventing Plaintiffs' security measures.

6 Finally, Plaintiffs have also established Defendants violated the third prong of § 7 1201(a)(2) — marketing a technology used in circumventing an access measure — because 8 Plaintiffs' undisputed evidence shows that Defendants provided free receivers to moderators 9 on popular piracy web sites and encouraged the moderators to provide favorable reviews of 10 the receiver's ability to obtain Plaintiffs' protected programming.

11 The Court finds Defendants Viewtech and Kwak are liable for violations of § 12 1201(a)(2).

13 II. Statutory Damages

14 Plaintiffs are entitled to statutory damages. In any civil action brought for violations 15 of § 1201, the Court may award statutory damages “for each violation of section 1201 in the 16 sum of not less than $200 or more than $2,500 per act of circumvention, device, product,
17 component, offer, or performance of service, as the court considers just.” 17 U.S.C. §
18 1203(c)(3)(A) (emphasis added). “[T]he court has wide discretion in determining the amount 19 of statutory damages to be awarded, constrained only by the specified maxima and minima.”
20 Peer Int’l Corp. v. Pausa Records, Inc., 909 F.2d 1332, 1336 (9th Cir. 1990) (quoting Harris 21 v. Emus Records Corp., 734 F.2d 1329, 1335 (9th Cir. 1984)).

22 Plaintiffs argue that Defendants engaged in at least 1.5 million violations of § 23 1201(a)(2) based on each device sold. Sony Computer Entm’t America, Inc. v. Filipak, 406 24 F. Supp. 2d 1068, 1074. (N.D. Cal. 2005) (“§ 1203(c)(3)(A) authorizes a separate award of 25 statutory damages for each device sold”); Craigslist, Inc. v. Naturemarket, Inc., 694 F. Supp.
26 2d 1039, 1064 (N.D. Cal. 2010) (treating each unit sold as a violation); Sony Computer
27 Entm’t America, Inc. v. Divineo, Inc., 457 F. Supp. 2d 957, 967 (N.D. Cal. 2006) (calculating 28 damages based on the number of devices sold). Defendant Kwak estimated that Defendants

1 sold between 1.5 and 1.8 million receivers, and the limited documents produced establish
2 sales of at least 1,074,493 from September 2005 to January 2009, without complete sales
3 records for 2009. The undisputed evidence before the Court indicates that the receivers were 4 designed, marketed, and sold for piracy and Defendant Kwak admitted to his efforts to defeat
5 Plaintiff's security measures to increase sales of Defendants' receivers. Plaintiffs have 6 established 1,074,493 violations based on Defendants' sale of at least 1,074,493 receivers
7 intended for piracy.

8 The minimum the Court may award for each violation is $200 resulting in statutory 9 damages of $214,898,600.

10 III. Permanent Injunction

11 Plaintiffs seek a permanent injunction enjoining Defendants' unlawful conduct.
12 Section 1203(b)(1) authorizes the Court to "grant . . . permanent injunctions on such terms as 13 it deems reasonable to prevent or restrain a violation." The Court finds that under the facts
14 of this case, Plaintiffs are entitled to a permanent injunction.

15 Defendants are enjoined from:

- 16 • manufacturing, importing, offering to the public, or otherwise trafficking in 17 Viewsat receivers, software files, or any other technology or part thereof used in 18 circumventing Plaintiffs' security system or intercepting Plaintiffs' programming;
- 19 • circumventing or assisting others in circumventing Plaintiffs' security system, or 20 otherwise intercepting or assisting others in intercepting Plaintiffs' signal;
- 21 • testing, analyzing, reverse engineering, manipulating, or otherwise extracting 22 codes, data, or information from Plaintiffs' satellite receivers, smart cards, satellite 23 data stream, or any other part or component of Plaintiffs' security system.

24 IV. Attorneys' Fees and Costs

25 Section 1203(b)(4)-(5) gives the Court discretion to "allow the recovery of costs by or 26 against any party . . . [and] award reasonable attorneys' fees to the prevailing party." An 27 award of reasonable attorneys' fees and costs is appropriate in this case. Within thirty days
28 from the date this order is filed, Plaintiffs shall submit an affidavit detailing the attorney's

1 fees incurred, describing the work performed, who performed the work, time expended, and
2 hourly rates. Plaintiffs may pursue costs in accordance with Civil Local Rule 54.1.

3 CONCLUSION

4 Plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment is GRANTED. The Clerk shall enter
5 judgment in favor of Plaintiffs and against Defendants in the sum of $214,898,600.

6 Defendants are permanently enjoined as described above. Plaintiffs are entitled to reasonable
7 attorneys' fees and costs. Plaintiffs' ex parte motions to file certain audio recordings by disk
8 and to file portions of an expert report identifying the locations of proprietary security codes
9 within receivers are GRANTED.

Case No. 2:07-CV-05897-JZ-PLA

ORDER GRANTING DISH
NETWORK'S MOTION FOR
SUMMARY JUDGMENT
AGAINST GLOBAL TECHNOLOGIES, INC.; FINAL JUDGMENT, and PERMANENT INJUNCTION

1 This matter comes before the Court on Plaintiffs DISH Network L.L.C. (f/k/a
2 EchoStar Satellite L.L.C.), EchoStar Technologies L.L.C. (f/k/a EchoStar
3 Technologies Corporation), and NagraStar LLC (collectively, “DISH Network” or 4 “Plaintiffs”) Motion for Summary Judgment (“Motion”) against Defendant Global 5 Technologies, Inc. (“Global Tech”) for violation of the Digital Millennium 6 Copyright Act, 17 U.S.C. § 1201(a)(2). Having reviewed the materials and 7 evidence submitted by DISH Network as well as the arguments by counsel for 8 DISH Network at a hearing on Plaintiffs’ Motion, and being fully advised, the 9 Court hereby makes the following FINDINGS:

10 1. Based on the arguments and sworn declaration testimony of counsel 11 for DISH Network which was presented at the hearing on the Motion, as well as 12 the Court’s review of Exhibits 1 through 23 attached to that sworn declaration, the 13 Court FINDS that Global Tech was properly and adequately served with notice of 14 DISH Network’s Motion and all concurrently filed evidence, applications and 15 materials, as well as this Court’s July 14, 2010 Minute Order setting a briefing
16 scheduling and hearing date for DISH Network’s Motion. Service was effectuated
17 on both Defendant Global Tech’s principal, H.K. Cha, and Global Tech’s Korean 18 counsel, Hojin Chang, by both Federal Express and email;

19 2. Based on the evidence supporting DISH Network’s Motion, including 20 the expert reports and declarations of Dr. Aviel Rubin of ISE and Nigel Jones of 21 RMB Consulting, sworn declarations of Confidential Informant Nos. 1, 2 and 3,
22 and the other documents and declarations filed concurrently with DISH Network’s
23 Motion, the Court FINDS that Global Tech violated section 1201(a)(2) of the 24 Digital Millennium Copyright Act (“DMCA”) through its trafficking in Pansat 25 receiver models 2700A, 9000HD and 9200HD within the state of California and 26 throughout the United States. Based on this same evidence, the Court FINDS that 27 these Pansat receivers, including components and parts thereof, were primarily 28 designed and manufactured by Global Tech to circumvent and facilitate the

1 circumvention of DISH Network’s conditional access system (“CAS” or “security
2 system”) which effectively controls access to the copyrighted works broadcast on 3 the DISH Network platform. These components and parts thereof include, inter
4 alia, unauthorized copies of the ROM and EEPROM used in DISH Network’s
5 security system, an unauthorized and unlicensed implementation of the 6 International Data Encryption Algorithm (“IDEA”) used in DISH Network’s
7 security system, and the use of an embedded U-15 integrated circuit chip as an 8 anti-cloning mechanism which ensured that software designed to allow these 9 receivers to circumvent DISH Network’s security system was running on a 10 legitimate Pansat receiver manufactured by Global Tech. The evidence further 11 establishes that the Pansat 9200HD receiver was designed by Global Tech to work
12 in conjunction with a device known as an 8PSK TFEC, which has no commercially
13 significant use other than to facilitate the circumvention of DISH Network’s
14 security system and allow unauthorized access to, and viewing of, DISH
15 Network’s High Definition programming;

16 3. Based on the evidence attached to DISH Network’s Motion, including 17 the expert reports and declarations of Dr. Aviel Rubin of ISE and Nigel Jones of
18 RMB Consulting, sworn declarations of Confidential Informant Nos. 1, 2 and 3,
19 and the other documents and declarations filed concurrently with DISH Network’s
20 Motion, the Court FINDS that Global Tech’s violations of section 1201(a)(2) of 21 the DMCA were done willfully and knowingly;

22 4. Based on the Admissions by Global Tech in their written discovery
23 responses attached to DISH Network’s Motion, the Court FINDS that Global Tech
24 trafficked in 250,504 Pansat 2700A, 9000HD and 9200HD receivers, collectively, 25 within the state of California and throughout the United States;

26 ///

27 ///

28 ///

1 Based on the FINDINGS above, the evidence attached to DISH Network's
2 Motion and the legal authorities cited in DISH Network's Motion and otherwise
3 provided by counsel in oral argument, the Court hereby GRANTS DISH
4 Network's Motion and ORDERS as follows:

5 1. Defendant Global Tech is liable for 250,504 violations of § 1201(a)(2)
6 of the DMCA based on the number of Pansat satellite receiver models 2700A, 7 9000HD, and 9200HD manufactured and imported by Global Tech into the United
8 States, collectively, from 2005-2008. Global Tech acted willfully and Plaintiffs 9 are awarded $2,500 per violation for a total of six hundred twenty-six million two 10 hundred sixty thousand dollars ($626,260,000.00) in statutory damages from 11 Defendant Global Tech for the 250,504 violations of § 1201(a)(2) of the DMCA.
12 This statutory damage award is both appropriate and reasonable based on Global 13 Tech's willful violations of the DMCA, and is conservative for several reasons
14 including that it only represents a portion of the total number of Pansat receivers
15 trafficked in by Global Tech, does not include damages for the number of 8PSK 16 TFEC devices trafficked in by Global Tech, and does not include damages for the 17 total number of downloads of the piracy software files designed to work with 18 Pansat receivers which distributed by Global Tech or others acting on its behalf;

19 2. Pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 1203(b)(2) and (b)(6), any Pansat 2700A, 9000HD
20 or 9200HD receivers located within the United States in Global Tech's (or anyone 21 acting on behalf of Global Tech who receive notice of this Order) custody or 22 control may be impounded and destroyed;

EXHIBIT 8

3. As a result of Defendants' failure to answer, or otherwise appear in this action, the Court accepts as true the following well-pleaded allegations in Nagravision's amended complaint:

a. Nagravision provides security technology to several prominent broadcasters in the pay-television industry, which ensures secure access to their subscription-based television services. Nagravision's customers serve markets globally, including DISH Network in the United States and Telefonica and Claro TV Brazil in Latin America. (Am. Compl. ¶¶ 12, 22.)

b. Pay-television broadcasters that use the security technology of Nagravision transmit their signal to subscribers in an encrypted format. To receive the signal, subscribers are required to purchase or lease from the broadcaster a receiver paired with a smart card, along with a programming subscription package. Viewing rights vary based on the services purchased from the pay-television broadcaster. (Id. ¶ 13.)

c. Nagravision designs and licenses software incorporated into the receivers and smart cards, and also manufactures smart cards. The smart card is used to (i) manage, store, and communicate to the receiver the subscriber's right to decrypt specific channels based on his subscription plan, and (ii) decrypt the encrypted control words or "keys" required to unlock and view the channels for which the subscriber has purchased access. (Id. ¶ 14.)

d. Nagravision's control words are transmitted to subscribers in the encrypted audio and video streams of the pay-television broadcaster. Control words are channel specific and change automatically about every few seconds. The control words are double protected by being delivered in encrypted packets called "entitlement control messages" ("ECMs"). The keys used to decrypt ECMs, called "transmission keys", are stored in the subscriber's smart card. (Id. ¶ 15.)

e. When a subscriber wants to view a specific channel, the receiver obtains the ECM containing the encrypted control word and forwards it to the smart card. The smart card uses its current transmission key to decrypt the ECM. The smart card then looks in its rights database to confirm the subscriber purchased a subscription to view the programming the control word will decrypt. If the rights match, the smart card forwards the unencrypted control word to the receiver, where the control word decrypts the broadcast. (Id. ¶ 16.)

f. “Internet key sharing” (“IKS”) is a form of pay-television piracy involving unauthorized harvesting and redistribution of Nagravision’s control words. Nagravision’s control words are obtained by purchasing a subscription with the pay-television broadcaster, and using a genuine smart card activated on that subscription to decrypt ECMs containing the control words. Once decrypted, control words are sent from the smart card to a computer server, called an “IKS server”, where they are saved in the server’s memory or cache. (Id. ¶ 17.)

g. Nagravision control words are distributed from the IKS server to end users. End users access the IKS server with an unauthorized receiver connected to the Internet. When the end user tunes to a channel, the unauthorized receiver requests the control word for that channel from the IKS server. The IKS server sends the control word over the Internet to the unauthorized receiver, allowing the end user to decrypt the channel without purchasing a subscription from the pay-television broadcaster. (Id. ¶ 18.)

h. Defendants manufacture and distribute unauthorized receivers under brand names including Globalsat, AZAmerica, NAZABox, Captiveworks, and Limesat, among them the Globalsat GS-111 and GS-300, AZAmerica S1005, NAZABox NZ S-1010, Captiveworks CW-600S, CW-650S, CW-700S, CW-800S, 900 HD, and Limesat Ultra. (Id. ¶ 21.)

i. Defendants’ Globalsat, AZAmerica, and NAZABox receivers are capable of circumventing Nagravision’s security system and intercepting the subscription-based television programming provided by Nagravision’s customers in Latin America, Telefonica and Claro TV Brazil. Defendants’ Limesat and Captiveworks receivers can be used to circumvent Nagravision’s security system and intercept the subscription-based television programming of DISH Network, which is Nagravision’s customer in the United States. Defendants imported and sold Limesat and Captiveworks receivers to distributors located in the United States. (Id. ¶¶ 22, 28.)

j. Defendants' unauthorized receivers contain multiple hardware and software components that are unnecessary for receiving unencrypted satellite broadcasts, but are essential for decrypting broadcasts protected by the Nagravision security system. The components include proprietary Nagravision code taken from the ROM and EEPROM of a pay-television provider's smart card, decryption keys and a decryption algorithm used in Nagravision's security system, and other design elements relating to pay-television piracy. (Id. ¶¶ 23, 29-30.)

k. Defendants operate an IKS service from servers located in the United States that are used to distribute Nagravision's control words to end users of their Globalsat, AZAmerica, and NAZABox receivers. The servers involved are: (i) "authentication servers", which confirm the end user is permitted to access the IKS service and provide information to connect to additional servers that deliver Nagravision's control words; and (ii) "control word servers", which function as a cache by storing Nagravision's control words and also a front end by transmitting the control words from the cache to end users requesting control words through their unauthorized receiver. Defendants developed the control word sharing technology and assembled the IKS servers used to support their IKS service. (Id. ¶¶ 24-26, 32, 38.)

l. Defendants' control word sharing technology, services, and unauthorized receivers are primarily designed and produced to circumvent Nagravision's security technology, have no commercially significant purpose or use other than circumventing Nagravision's security technology, and are primarily of assistance in the unauthorized decryption of satellite television broadcasts protected by Nagravision's security technology. Defendants assisted others to receive Nagravision's control words and satellite television broadcasts protected by Nagravision's security technology, without authorization and for their own benefit, by having provided IKS services and unauthorized receivers. (Id. ¶ 33, 39, 43.)

m. Defendants intended for their control word sharing technology, services, and receivers to be used in the unauthorized decryption of satellite television broadcasts protected by Nagravision's security technology, or at least knew or should have known that the foregoing are primarily used for this purpose. (Id. ¶¶ 35, 40, 44.)

n. Defendants' acts violate the Digital Millennium Copyright Act ("DMCA"), 17 U.S.C. § 1201(a)(2), and the Federal Communications Act ("FCA"), 47 U.S.C. §§ 605(e)(4) and 605(a), as alleged in Counts I, II and III of Nagravision's amended complaint. (Id. ¶¶ 31-45.)

o. Nagravision elected to recover statutory damages in the amount of $200 for each of Defendants' violations of the DMCA. The damages sought by Nagravision are at the very bottom of the range authorized by 17 U.S.C. §1203(c)(3)(A), substantially less than the $10,000 per violation statutory minimum allowed by the FCA, in line with statutory damages awarded in similar cases, and reasonable given Defendants' misconduct. Nagravision submitted evidence that Defendants provided their IKS services to at least 501,985 end users, and distributed at least 7,274 Limesat and Captiveworks receivers, for a combined total of 509,259 violations of the DMCA.

II. FINAL JUDGMENT AND PERMANENT INJUNCTION

Upon default of Defendants, and having reviewed the record, evidence, and applicable law in this matter, the Court hereby ORDERS as follows:

1. Defendants, and any of their officers, agents, servants, employees, or other persons acting in active concert or participation with any of the foregoing that receives actual notice of the order, is permanently enjoined from:

a. Manufacturing, importing, assembling, selling, distributing, offering to the public, providing, or trafficking in: (a) any product, technology, or service used in acquiring or distributing Nagravision's control words; (b) Limesat receivers; (c) Captiveworks receivers; or (d) any other service, technology, product, equipment, device, component, or part thereof that:

i. is primarily designed or produced for circumventing Nagravision's security system or any other technological measure deployed by Nagravision that controls access to, copying, or distribution of copyrighted works;

ii. has only a limited commercially significant purpose or use other than to circumvent Nagravision's security system or any other technological measure deployed by Nagravision that controls access to, copying, or distribution of copyrighted works;

iii. is marketed for use in circumventing Nagravision's security system or any other technological measure deployed by Nagravision that controls access to, copying, or distribution of copyrighted works; or

iv. is primarily of assistance in the unauthorized decryption of direct-to-home satellite services protected by the Nagravision security technology.

b. Receiving or assisting others in receiving Nagravision's control words or satellite transmissions of television programming protected by Nagravision's security technology without authorization.

2. Third parties providing any form of web, server, domain registration, file hosting, or content delivery network services used by Defendants in connection with any of the activities enjoined in paragraph 1, and who receive actual notice of this Order, are enjoined from providing such services to Defendants in connection with any of the activities enjoined under paragraph 1.

3. Judgment is entered in favor of Nagravision on Counts I through III of the amended complaint, which allege violations of the DMCA, 17 U.S.C. § 1201(a)(2), and FCA, 47 U.S.C. §§ 605(e)(4) and 605(a).

4. In accordance with 17 U.S.C. § 1203(c)(3)(A), statutory damages of $101,851,800 are awarded to Nagravision. The statutory damages are calculated based on Defendants' 509,259 violations of section 1201(a)(2) of the DMCA at $200 per violation.

5. In accordance with 17 U.S.C. § 1203(b)(2), Defendants, and any of their officers, agents, servants, employees, or other persons acting in active concert or participation with any of the foregoing that receives actual notice of the order, must turn over for impoundment all items listed in paragraph 1(a), and any source code or other components of the receivers that incorporate any portion of Nagravision's security technology. The items must be delivered to Nagravision's counsel of record no later than five court days following service of this order.

6. In accordance with 17 U.S.C. § 1203(b)(6), all items that Nagravision receives pursuant to paragraph 5 may be destroyed. Destruction may commence after the time for filing an appeal from this order has passed, provided that no such appeal has been filed.

7. The registries and registrars holding or listing the domain names gotechcn.com and goosat.com, upon receiving actual notice of this Order, shall (i) temporarily disable the domain names through a registry hold or otherwise, and make them inactive and non-transferable; and (ii) transfer these domain names to Nagravision, including changing the registrar of record to the registrar selected by Nagravision.

8. The Court retains jurisdiction over this action for a period of two years for purposes of enforcing this final judgment and permanent injunction.
